

COVID-19 SUPPLY CHAIN RESILIENCE & DEVELOPMENT FRAMEWORK SUPPORT GUIDANCE NOTES

Invest Northern Ireland has introduced a new response scheme to help companies recover from the business challenges caused by COVID-19 and EU Exit.

This document provides guidance on the support available through the COVID-19 Supply Chain Resilience and Development Framework (SCRDF) including eligibility criteria, application process and evidence required. If you are considering applying for this support please read this document carefully before submitting an application.

The programme will close to applications at 5pm on Friday 29 October 2021, or earlier if the available advisory resource, or budget, is fully allocated. Projects will be approved on a first-come first-served basis.

OVERVIEW

The Supply Chain Resilience and Development Framework (SCRDF) has been developed to provide support to businesses to help improve their supply chain resilience and competitiveness.

SCRDF will provide a graduated framework of support, primarily providing specialist advisory support to help businesses identify supply chain risks and appropriate mitigations, identify supply chain opportunities and develop supply chain capability.

Financial assistance towards salary cost of a dedicated supply chain worker may also be available depending on a business' circumstances.

SCRDF is open to manufacturers and internationally tradeable services businesses who manage a supply chain as part of their business, or who are involved in the extended supply chain. Please review the eligibility criteria below and complete the eligibility checker before applying.

SUPPORT AVAILABLE

The overall aim of SCRDF is to build a Northern Ireland supply chain ecosystem by helping companies become more competitive. The scheme will provide a blend of specialist advice and financial support to help eligible businesses implement sustainable supply chain improvements and opportunities.

SCRDF will provide a graduated level of support to businesses:

Step 1

Initial engagement with businesses will be in an advisory capacity from our team of supply chain professionals. Businesses will receive up to one half day of free support and specialist advice to help it understand the key supply chain issues it is facing, and provide initial advice and direction on how to resolve these.

Step 2

If, in consultation with the business, there is a clear need for an improvement action plan that will strengthen the business' supply chain operation, up to a further 10 days of support may be made available. A dedicated supply chain specialist will work with the business to support, coach and mentor it through an agreed action plan, owned and delivered by the business, which could cover some or all of the following areas:

- Coaching and mentoring on supply chain improvements/techniques to deliver sustainable benefits;
- Facilitating, mentoring and coordinating supply chain improvement projects;
- Supporting businesses to assess supply chain risk and mitigation opportunities;
- Providing strategic procurement and supply chain advice to companies;
- Identifying supply chain opportunities within businesses and promoting the benefits of a structured approach to managing suppliers.
- Supporting businesses on repurposing operations and supply chains to meet potential new opportunities

Step 3

If, as part of the action plan agreed in Step 2, a business does not have the required supply chain resource or capability and identifies the need for a new, dedicated supply chain role, financial assistance may be available towards 50% of the first 12 month's salary costs, up to a maximum of £25k of support.

In order to receive this support the business will need to complete an online application form, demonstrating the need for the new role, how the role will help deliver the above agreed action plan, what benefits the role will bring to the business, and what tangible outcomes it will deliver.

Financial assistance available under SCRDF will be allocated on a first-come first-served basis.

STATE AID / SUBSIDY CONTROL

De minimis aid

Under Article 10 of the Northern Ireland Protocol to the UK EU Withdrawal Agreement, EU State aid rules continue to apply to the UK in respect of measures which affect trade in goods between NI and the EU. SCRDF financial support to which Article 10 of the NI Protocol applies constitutes de minimis aid and falls within the scope of the EC's de minimis aid Regulation. The maximum amount of de minimis aid a company can receive in a three year fiscal period as is €200,000, approximately £172,000 at 8 March 2021.

UK Subsidy Control

SCRDF financial support to which Article 10 of the NI Protocol does not apply falls under the Special Drawing Rights (SDR) provisions of UK Subsidy Control as set out in the UK EU Trade & Cooperation Agreement (TCA). The maximum amount of SDR support a company can receive in a three year fiscal period is 325,000 SDR, commencing 1st January 2021 (approximately £334,000 at 8 March 2021).
